STHANA - Dr. Anirudha Pathak 2021-10-19
The importance of Purushartha Chatushtya is well known since time immemorial. It is always necessary that each individual is to be made oriented to fulfill the requirements to accomplish the goals for Purushartha Chatushtya and that is highly dependent upon the healthy status of every human being.¹ As it has been enumerated that Ashraya of Vyadhi is Deha and Manas and both are illuminating about the Swastha Sharira. Again it has been advised that keeping everything aside, body is to be concentrated because in absence of body i.e. healthy body nothing there is absence of all bodily entities.² Hence, the primitive aim of Ayurveda is to maintain the normalcy of health which is followed by prevention of the disease

In an innovative cultural history of Argentine movies and radio in the decades before Peronism, Matthew B. Karush demonstrates that competition with jazz and Hollywood cinema shaped Argentina's domestic cultural production in crucial ways, as Argentine producers tried to elevate their offerings to appeal to consumers seduced by North American modernity. At the same time, the transnational marketplace encouraged these producers to compete by marketing "authentic" Argentine culture. Domestic filmmakers, radio and recording entrepreneurs, lyricists, musicians, actors, and screenwriters borrowed heavily from a rich tradition of popular melodrama. Although the resulting mass culture trafficked in conformism and consumerist titillation, it also disseminated versions of national identity that celebrated the virtue and dignity of the poor, while denigrating the wealthy as greedy and mean-spirited. This anti-elitism has been overlooked by historians, who have depicted radio and cinema as instruments of social cohesion and middle-class formation. Analyzing tango and folk songs, film comedies and dramas, radio soap operas, and other genres, Karush argues that the Argentine culture industries generated polarizing images and narratives that provided much of the discursive raw material from which Juan and Eva Pern built their mass movement.

Review on Allergic Conjunctivitis - Dr. Manjiri Pritam Keskar 2022-03-05

Acharya Sushruta described 76 types of eye diseases. Abhishyanda comes under the Sarvagata Rogas. These eye diseases were classified according to the structures affected in the eye. Netrabhishyanda is explained under the heading Sarvagata Roga" because all the eye disease under this heading are occupying most of the part of the eyeball like Mandala, Sandhi and Patala. There are mainly 4 types of Abhishyanda viz. Vataja Abhishyanda, Pittaja Abhishyanda, Kaphaja Abhishyanda and Raktaja Abhishyanda.
